

FEERICK LTD – COVID-19 STATEMENT

The health, safety and wellbeing of our customers, workforce, supply chain partners and the wider public is our top priority.

In response to the Coronavirus, we have implemented our business continuity procedures to safeguard our people and operations. We will operate our projects as usual, in compliance with government advice/guidelines.

Business continuity procedures established within our sites, offices, and supply chain to ensure the supply of labour resource and materials have been implemented, ensuring focus is on critical elements.

As the impact upon the construction industry from COVID-19 develops, we will continue to evolve our plans as much as possible. This way we can ensure we continue making progress on our projects by looking for alternative materials, management and labour resources.

Within the individual project contingency strategies, we are planning for all possibilities, which include the minimum level of resource required to operate our sites and offices safely.

We continue to advise colleagues on government guidance and are actively promoting preventative measures to minimise the risk of infection. These include continued focus upon hygiene and cleaning and encouraging video conferencing, including short-term succession planning.

Our focus is the safe continuity of business during this period and we will continue to review our solutions as the situation evolves.

Paul Feerick
Managing Director